Baptisms: In order to make baptismal arrangements contact carmen@goodshepherdpittsburg.org

Marriages: In order to make marriage arrangements contact carmen@goodshepherdpittsburg.org 6 months prior to marriage day.

Funeral Arrangements: Should be arranged by family, church and mortuary. Normal Christian burial consists of Vigil Service, Holy Mass and Burial in a Catholic Cemetery. Any other arrangements should first be discussed with parish priest.

The readings of this 16th Sunday show us how to be hospitable to others. Abraham welcomes three strangers and feeds them. Mary and Martha welcome Jesus to their house. But each of them shows their own way of hospitality. Martha is worried about all details of hospitality, running around the house, preparing the dinner. She is symbolic of an active life, of those who are actively engaged in the ministries of the church. Meanwhile, her sister Mary sits quietly at the feet of Jesus, listening to him. Mary represents contemplative life, the life of monks and nuns.

Yes, both these ways of life are needed. But the question is what should come first? When we talk about hospitality, we often think of doing this or that for our guest. But listening is also a great act of hospitality. Imagine you invite a friend to your house. Will you let her sit at the corner of the house, and you go do your own things? No, you won't. But in reality, some people still treat Jesus that way. At baptism, we have Jesus come into our lives, but we lock him in a separate room and leave him there, then we go and do our own things. We seldom listen to him. That's why we feel boredom and tiresome of life – life without inspiration. So listening has to come before acting. If we act without listening to the word of God, troubles will follow. That's why Jesus said Mary has chosen a better part.

Mary has chosen the better part, not that Martha chose the wrong one. Rather, Mary had the right priority. It is, therefore, not a question of which of the two is more important. Work and prayer are both important. It is more a question of which of the two should come first. Jesus tells us that prayer should come first so that our work will have the guidance and inspiration from God. A quotation says, "When man works, it is only man who works. But when man prays, God works." This reminds me of Psalm 127:1: "If the Lord does not build the house, in vain does the workman labor; if the Lord does not watch over the city, in vain does the watchman keep vigil." Definitely, it is God who makes things possible, who makes our works bear fruits and blossom.

There is a story about two woodcutters. The first one works eight hours a day. The second works only for five hours. But both of them have equal number of logs cut with their axe. Asked about the secret of his productivity, the second woodcutter said, "It is because I take time to rest and recharge my body. And while resting, I sharpen my axe."

Nowadays, people have to be reminded of this lesson. Many people have the disease called STD - Stress, Tension and Depression. We work so hard to make ends meet. We rush to meet deadlines, to catch the train, and to come on time for our appointments. At the end of the day, we are exhausted, wasted, dull and empty. And this happens everyday for years. Worst of all, many of us say that we have no time even to go to church or to pray. We are just too busy. The Lord is now telling us: "Martha, Martha, you are so worried and anxious about so many things! Relax. Come to me, and I will give you rest!" We need to come to Jesus to get some rest. Today's gospel invites us to be a Mary who sits with devotion at the Lord's feet, first listening to his words, and then to be a Martha going out with energy, passion and inspiration to serve the Lord and one another.

Blessings, Fr. Thi Hoang

COUNSELING OPPORTUNITY AVAILABLE AT GOOD SHEPHERD

Counselor,
Sandy Heinisch,
is available for counseling here at Good Shepherd on Tuesdays. She is English speaking only.

If you wish to set up an appointment to speak with Sandy, please contact her at 925-628-1503 or sandynca@sbcglobal.net

Four Ways the Diocese of Oakland and You are Preventing Sexual Abuse

Creating safe environments

Anyone who works in ministry with children, whether a clergy, religious, employee or volunteer, is required to attend training on safe environments (with retraining every three years) and undergo a criminal record check. This means 33,334 volunteers, employees and clergy in our Diocese know the warning signs of predatory behavior, know the Diocese's code of conduct and know how to report suspicious activity of anyone who might want to harm children. For more information on our safe environment training, please visit <https://www.oakdiocese.org/offices/safe-environment>.

Reporting abuse

If you or someone you know has been abused or victimized by someone representing the Catholic Church, believe in the possibility for hope, help and healing. Anyone with information concerning an allegation of sexual misconduct by a clergy member or any diocesan employee should contact the local authority, i.e. police or sheriff department and the chancellor for the Diocese of Oakland, Mr. Stephen Wilcox, swilcox@oakdiocese.org or 510-267-8334.

Thoroughly investigating

Every allegation of abuse by a member of the clergy, diocesan and parish employee, or parish volunteer is reviewed by the Diocesan Review Board, an independent group of professionals which was established in 1993. Initially the board was called the Sensitive Issues Committee; in 2003 it was renamed the Diocesan Review Board. The Board is responsible for investigating allegations of clergy sexual abuse, assessing the allegation and making recommendations to the Bishop regarding the alleged offender. It operates as a consultative body to the Bishop.

Improving standards for clergy

Every candidate for the priesthood and diaconate undergoes a thorough investigation and formation. Seminarians and diaconal candidates for the Diocese of Oakland are required to undergo psychological screening, receive safe environment training and criminal record checks, and receive formation in psychosexual development. Priests from other diocese in the United States (and many other countries) or members of religious orders undergo similar safe environment training and criminal record checks as our own clergy and laity. In addition, their superiors (with a bishop or major superior of their order) must provide written verification they are suitable for ministry in the Diocese of Oakland.

¡TAMBIÉN ESTAMOS A MITAD DEL CAMINO!

Las lecturas de este decimosexto Domingo nos muestran cómo ser hospitalarios con los demás. Abraham da la bienvenida a tres extraños y los alimenta. María y Marta dan la bienvenida a Jesús en su casa. Pero cada uno de ellos muestra su propia forma de hospitalidad. Martha está preocupada por todos los detalles de la hospitalidad, corriendo por la casa, preparando la cena. Ella es un símbolo de una vida activa, de aquellos que participan activamente en los ministerios de la Iglesia. Mientras tanto, su hermana María se sienta tranquilamente a los pies de Jesús, escuchándolo. María representa la vida contemplativa, la vida de monjes y monjas.

Sí, se necesitan estas dos formas de vida. Pero la pregunta es ¿qué debería venir primero? Cuando hablamos de hospitalidad, a menudo pensamos en hacer esto o aquello para nuestro invitado(a). Pero escuchar también es un gran acto de hospitalidad. Imagina que invitas a un amigo(a) a tu casa. ¿Dejarías que se quede en la esquina de la casa mientras vas a hacer tus propias cosas? No, no lo harías. Pero en realidad, algunas personas todavía tratan a Jesús de esa manera. En el bautismo, tenemos a Jesús que entra en nuestras vidas, pero lo encerramos en una habitación separada y lo dejamos allí, luego vamos y hacemos nuestras propias cosas. Rara vez lo escuchamos. Es por eso que sentimos aburrimiento y tedio de la vida – vida sin inspiración. Así que escuchar tiene que venir antes de actuar. Si actuamos sin escuchar la palabra de Dios, los problemas seguirán. Por eso Jesús dijo que María había elegido una parte mejor.

María ha elegido la mejor parte, no es que Marta escogió la equivocada. Más bien, María tenía la prioridad correcta. Por lo tanto, no se trata de cuál de las dos prioridades es más importante. El trabajo y la oración son importantes. Es más bien una cuestión de cuál de las dos debe ser la primera. Jesús nos dice que la oración debe ser primero para que nuestra obra tenga la guía y la inspiración de Dios. Una cita dice: "Cuando el hombre trabaja, sólo es un hombre que trabaja. Pero cuando el hombre ora, Dios obra." Esto me recuerda el Salmo 127:1: "Si el Señor no construye la casa, en vano hace el trabajo el obrero; si el Señor no vela por la ciudad, en vano el vigilante mantiene la vigilia" Definitivamente, es Dios quien hace que las cosas sean posibles, quien hace que nuestras obras den frutos y florezcan.

Hay una historia sobre dos leñadores. El primero trabaja ocho horas al día. El segundo sólo trabaja durante cinco horas. Pero ambos tienen el mismo número de troncos cortados con su hacha. Preguntado sobre el secreto de su productividad, el segundo leñador dijo: "Es porque tomo tiempo para descansar y recargar mi cuerpo. Y mientras descanso, afilo mi hacha."

Hoy en día, la gente tiene que ser recordada de esta lección. Muchas personas tienen la enfermedad llamada STD (iniciales en Inglés), Stress, Tension and Depression. En Español, Estrés, Tensión y Depresión. Trabajamos tan duro para llegar a fin de mes. Nos apresuramos a cumplir con los plazos, coger el tren y llegar a tiempo para nuestras citas. Al final del día, estamos agotados, desfusos, aburridos y vacíos. Y esto sucede todos los días durante años. Lo peor de todo es que muchos de nosotros decimos que ni siquiera tenemos tiempo para ir a la Iglesia o para orar. Estamos demasiado ocupados. El Señor nos está diciendo: "¡Marta, Marta, estás tan preocupada y ansiosa por tantas cosas! Relajate. ¡Ven a mí, y te daré descanso!" Tenemos que venir a Jesús para descansar un poco. El Evangelio de hoy nos invita a ser una María que se sienta con devoción a los pies del Señor, primero escuchando sus palabras, y luego a ser una Marta saliendo con energía, pasión e inspiración para servir al Señor y los unos a los otros.

Bendiciones

P. Thi Hoang
